Nishan is admirable in its endeavour to blaze a trail where one has never existed before. India has been waiting for democracy to begin since 1947, perhaps, surely, even before then. Team Nishan must continue blazing the trail to democratization. Though the journey be long, though you may grow tired, though you will meet obstacles around every bend, push forward and there is no other outcome than success.

Best of luck, if you lead others will follow.
